

Knife Block

My previous trailer was an Alpenlite 19' 5th wheel. I had a knife block mounted on one side of the counter which was very convenient. I kept the block and knives when I sold the old rig so I had to figure out a way to mount it in a convenient location. My first try was to use heavy duty Velcro to attach it to the backsplash at the back of the counter under the window. This did not work well because it kept coming loose and I could not close the blinds all the way.

I solved this problem by mounting a spacer block on the backsplash and screwing it to the back side of the knife block. I used the existing mounting holes in the backsplash so I can remove the block if I wish to without leaving any damage to the trailer.
